

An unforgettable day in Disneyland

Sue and Amy went to Disneyland last Sunday. It was an unforgettable day!

Last Saturday, Sue wanted to go to Disneyland. She asked her friend Amy, ‘Have you ever been to Disneyland before?’ ‘No, I’ve never been there, I’ve wanted to go there for a while now,’ Amy replied. ‘Okay, let’s go there tomorrow!’ Sue said. They were over the moon.

They met at the train station and took the train to Disneyland. When they got there, they took a lot of photos, went shopping at the gift shop, and they went on some fun rides. It was amazing! They were on cloud nine! Amy liked taking photos.

In the evening, on the way home, Amy suddenly found that she lost her mobile phone on the train. ‘Oh no! Where’s my mobile phone!’ Amy yelled. ‘Oh no!’ yelled Sue. They were both nervous.

Suddenly, a woman came out of the women’s washroom and shouted, ‘Hey! You left your phone next to the sink!’ Amy was so relieved to hear that her phone wasn’t lost on the train. The lady gave Amy back her phone, and that day Amy learnt a lesson – always check carefully.

Let's get ready for the party!

One day, Sam was preparing for the birthday party for Mum. He found his sister Bella. Sam asked Bella, 'Hello sister! Do you know Mum's birthday is coming? Bella said, 'Oh! I know that!' Sam said, 'Here is the to-do list. We have to finish 4 things. Bella doubtfully said, '4 things?' Sam said, 'Yep! We have to buy some snacks and drinks, tidy the living room, buy a birthday cake and write a birthday card.' Bella said, 'That's okay, I'll help you!'

A moment later, Sam went to the supermarket to buy something. Bella called Sam, she asked, 'How about you now?' Sam said, 'I've bought some snacks and drinks.' Bella asked him, 'Have you bought the birthday cake yet?' Sam said, 'I haven't done it yet but now I'll go to buy it.' While he was walking, he saw a toy store, he was attracted by it. He forgot to buy the cake. Then, Sam went home.

When Sam arrived home, the party has started. Sam's sister asked him, 'Where is the cake?' Sam was shocked, 'Er...I forgot that.' Dad said, 'Why didn't you buy the cake?' Sam was speechless. Dad said helplessly, 'Although it has happened, there should be a way to solve it.' The family were talking about the birthday cake. Sam understood what he needed to do.

In the end, after their discussion, everyone decided to call 'FootPanda'. Mum forgave Sam for what he did. In this incident, Sam learnt a lesson – concentrate on doing things.
